

faces short of coming with the largest but as far as he can obey. The natural course of things to think that who are called to God straighten - to step in to help. I was anxious to know the with reference to this thing if it will with your permission on the subject I would like to see you to ascertain of Mr. Kinslow whether he what were the
in the latter part of the year his own participation in the Kearney's travels, if you have opportunity you will, or in any way bein.

I have written this much in haste to see if I like you to see for the I hope you will find it God bless me right.

Yours affectionately
J. P. Cooper

